March 27, 2002 LB 1309

Juvenile Services, all of this whole area, that I definitely think will be looked at. And I want to reiterate on this amendment, next year I think things are going to come back fairly stoic. And we're working on a budget here for the next year, and those out-years, no matter what we do with additional revenue or whatever, are probably going to be fairly serious. And I fully expect to come back next year. I'm repeating myself probably for the 14th time, but I fully expect to come back next year and get our bills introduced into nearly every committee, not just Appropriations but other committees, to do some program cuts and some other things, as we...we need to have the proper time to do it. And I think that's one of the things the public perhaps doesn't understand at this point. Our process doesn't allow us really to make instant decisions on some of these if you go something other than across-the-board cuts. We have to go to the statutory changes, committees have their right to say, in many of these areas, and then it comes up here to the floor and we have to have 25 votes to agree. It isn't simply as one person or one committee can slash and cut indiscriminately. That isn't the way the process works. So even if we wanted to do some of these things at this time, we haven't had the time essentially since...

SENATOR SCHIMEK: One minute.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: ...since the Forecast Board particularly, and we may well next year have to come back and do some additional cuts, but at least we are working in the out-year. So the most important thing to do is to get through this next fiscal year, in my mind, but understanding we have a problem in the out-years. I acknowledge that. Most acknowledge that, but we do have time to react reasonably and with caution in doing...and properly, hopefully, in those...in that next biennium which we will be working at just exactly a year from today probably. So at this point I would not support Senator Pedersen's amendment.

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Thank you, Senator Wehrbein. Senator Dwite Pedersen, your light is next.

SENATOR Dw. PEDERSEN: Thank you, Madam President, members of the Legislature. First of all, I want to correct...my staff
